A Car-Fare Romance.

"I want a beer and I don't want it," said a seamy-looking young fellow to a bar-keeper in a small Dodge-street saloon last night. "Here's the last nickel I've got in the world, but that isn't why I hate to give it up. That nickel ruined me."

"It did?" queried the bar-keeper, incredulously.

"Yes, it did; or rather a girl that owed it did. Don't ask me what her name was, for I never knew. It was three years ago, and I had then a $45 job in one of the railway offices. One day I met this girl in a Red-line street car—a glorious being she was, and was I dead gone the minute I saw her. When she passed up the fare I was so nervous that I dropped the nickel, for her finger tips touched mine and a big thrill slid all the way up to the end of my hair and nearly raised my hat off. I made some apology for my clumsiness, which gave me a chance to hear her speak. Then I fished up this nickel from the floor, but shyly kept it myself and put in one of my own. Well, I watched that girl as far as I could see her, and I didn't know enough to get off the car until it reached the stable. Every day after that I spent all the time I could in riding up and down in the Red-line cars, but I never saw her again. Pretty soon I was bounced from my job for being absent-minded and making mistakes. I didn't care until I found I was half-starved. Then I got reckless and joined a circus. When the season was over I tramped it. I'm tramping still. Well, with a sigh, 'give us a beer and take the nickel.'"

After he had emptied the glass and gone out a hysteric asked the bar-keeper to let him see that historic coin. A second glance showed that it was a counterfeit.

"I wonder," said the bar-keeper, "what sort of a girl that was—or did he lie?" [Omaha Herald.]

The St. Louis Democrat asks, "Why should we not do away with the Electoral College and elect our Presidents by a popular vote?" There is no good reason why should this not be done. The invention of electors serves to defeat rather than carry out the popular will; and besides makes an opening for fraud—as in '76—where otherwise would not exist. [Covington Commonwealth.]

CURE FOR PILES.

Piles are frequently preceded by a sense of weight in the back, hips and lower part of the abdomen, causing the patient to suppose he has some affection of the kidneys or neighboring organs. At times, symptoms of indigestion are present, as flatulency, nausea or the stomach, etc. A mixture, like Peruvian, producing a very disagreeable itching, after getting warm, is a very common attendant. Itching, bleeding and itching piles yield at once to the application of Dr. Bosanko's Pile Remedy, which acts directly upon the parts affected, absorbing the tumors, allaying the intense itching and affording a permanent cure. Price 50 cents. Address the Dr. Bosanko Medicine Co., Lima, Ohio. Sold by McRoberts & Stagg.

HUSTONVILLE, LINCOLN COUNTY.

—John D. and T. L. Carpenter sold to Mr. Gentry, agent for the Lehman Bros. of New York, 75 head of cattle in two lots, one averaging 1,600 pounds at 5¢ cents, the other 1,700 pounds at 6¢ cents. The cattle go direct to New York for immediate shipment to England. The Londoners will be pleased to receive my assurance that although denizens of the land whose biggest and brightest boast is their traditional roast beef, they may now enjoy a luxury which their fathers only dreamed of—the rhythmic sweetness and poetical richness of real beef.

—It is exceedingly difficult in these stirring times to write anything as news a day or two in advance of publication day. For instance I may state in all candor now that our people of every shade of sentiment are taking the election quietly and yet before the morning of Friday we may be shaken by the throes of a political and social earthquake. But we no not anticipate anything of the kind. Our people are generally cool, quiet and law-abiding. Our colored population is noted as one of the most orderly in the State and we are all trained to take the dictum of the halloo box—when legitimately obtained—as the end of controversy. Hence we rest quietly while the storm is raging elsewhere.

—Will R. Williams exhibits his card as passenger agent for the St. Louis Air Line. Those looking to the West for homes have only to call on Billy and the terrors and toils of travel are dissipated as if by magic. The idea of privations, fatigue, accident, expense is shown to be unreal "as the baseless fabric of a vision." While mentioning the names of individuals I may state that R. Carson has set up his patriarchal tent among us, having rented from Thomas Cecil the old Cooper Hotel. Cecil, whose multifarious avocations preclude the possibility of keeping house, will board with him. I think it is a fixture now. Being probably the oldest member of the Presbyterian church in the county, he has dropped into one of the oldest congregations and found a home where in his age he found a blooming bride.

—The Presbyterians are busy trying to fill the vacancy created in their pulpit by the resignation of Rev. I. S. McElroy. They have already taken their usual initiatory step by electing an additional batch of officers. I trust they will not stop at this. Let these officers consider their vows of consecration to the work. Let them study the ancient records of their congregation, especially let them note the promptitude of attendance of those stalwart office-bearers of the olden time and the motto emblazoned on their banner "we will do right though the heavens fall" and we may confidently look forward to better days. The prospect now is that they will secure the services of Rev. Mr. Allen of the Northern Assembly, who has been here and seems to have made a good impression. Our town comprises four large and some of them wealthy congregations with three excellent church buildings and yet about one service in the month in each seems to meet all the wants of Time and furnish sufficient preparation for Eternity.

A queer marriage custom prevails among the exiles in Siberia. If a man wishes to get married he applies to the governor, who selects one of the female prisoners, with whom the matrimonial candidate is expected to "keep company" for two or three days. If at the conclusion of this term the male party declares that the lady selected is not to his mind, he receives twenty-five blows with a stick, and another bride is chosen for him—and so on. In most countries the candidate for matrimony doesn't receive the blows with a stick until sometime after he is married. We don't know what the Siberian plan has the advantage. [Norristown Herald.]

THE COST OF IT.—Probably no report of the cost of the republican campaign will ever be made public. An estimate made in Washington a few days ago put the cost of carrying the State of Ohio $1,600,000, and expenses in the Maine campaign at $600,000. An enormous sum was afterward scattered over the Union to effect the general election, and probably not less than half a million were expended for the bribing of votes. A share of this vast corruption fund was obtained from the manufacturers favored by Blaine's high tariff, and Mr. Blaine's presence at the Delmonico dinner shows what class of men the rest of it came from. [Chicago Times.]

OLD AND FRUITFUL.—Mrs. Rebecca Hunicutt, of Franklin county, Alabama, is ninety-one years, old has twenty-one living children, one hundred and five grand-children, one hundred and forty-six great-grand-children and eleven great-great-grand-children, making a total of three hundred and three descendants. The grand old woman reads without spectacles and in evidence of the tenacity with which her people cling to life, it may be added that in twenty-five years only one adult and seven children of her numerous progeny have died. [The Capital.]

The effect of cocaine, the new anesthetic upon the eye, is to produce insensibility to pain. A drop is put on the eyeball, and within a short time the surgeon is able to perform, without hurting the patient, what would otherwise be the most agonizing operation. The drug has been "cornered" and the small quantity in the country is held at $6,000 per pound.

FREE DISTRIBUTION.

"What causes the great rush at McRoberts & Stagg's Drug Store?" The free distribution of sample bottles of Dr. Bosanko's Cough and Lung Syrup, the most popular remedy for Coughs, Colds, Consumption and Bronchitis now on the market. Regular size 50 cents and $1.00.

How THEY MAKE PUTTY.—The process of making putty is a very simple one. The principal ingredients are raw linseed oil and whiting. Marble dust is mixed with the whiting, and as it is much cheaper it reduces the cost of the putty. Paraffine oils are used to a great extent instead of linseed, and as the former is the cheaper and inferior oil of the two, the result is to make an inferior article. To knead it, it is put in a chaser—an annular-shaped trough from the centre of which rises a vertical shaft. From this shaft two arms extend, on the ends of which are heavy iron wheels that rest on the trough. When the shaft revolves the wheels chase each other around the trough. The wholesale price of putty is about two cents per pound.

It is related that a certain German maid-once presided at a mineral water fountain at which there were only two kinds of syrup—vanilla and lemon. To her came a young man who said: "I want a glass of soda without syrup." "Ja," replied Katrina, "hoot vat kind of strop you vant him mitout—mitout vanilla or mitout lemon?"

Twenty-three years ago two Kentucky boys were marching together in the same regiment with a musket on their shoulders, and receiving $13 per month in Confederate funds. One of them will represent the grand old First district of Kentucky and the other the Second district of Kentucky in the next Congress of the United States. [Kentucky Telephone.]

A novel experiment of carrying a railroad through a forest has been tried in Sonoma county, California. The trees are sawed off and leveled and the ties are fastened on the stumps, two of which are huge redwoods standing side by side and reaching seventy-five feet from the ground. So firm is this support that heavily loaded cars pass over with perfect security.

Positive Cure for Piles.

To the people of this county we would say that we have been given the agency of Dr. Marchal's Italian Pile Ointment—emphatically guaranteed to cure or money refunded—Internal, External, Blind, Bleeding or Itching Piles. Price 50 cents a box. No cure, no pay. Penny & McAllister, Druggists.

Daughters, Wives and Mothers.

We euphatically guarantee Dr. Marchal's Cathartic, a female remedy, to cure Female Diseases, such as Ovarian troubles, Inflammation and Ulceration, Falling and displacement or bearing down feeling, Irregularities, Barrenness, Change of Life, Leucorrhoea, besides many weaknesses springing aside by side and reaching seventy-five feet from the ground. So firm is this support that heavily loaded cars pass over with perfect security.

JUST AS GOOD.

Many unscrupulous dealers may tell you they have remedies for Coughs and Colds equal in merit and in every respect just as good as the old reliable Dr. Bosanko Cough and Lung Syrup, unless you insist upon this remedy and will take no other, you are liable to be greatly deceived. Price, 50 cents and $1.00. Sold by McRoberts & Stagg.

W. P. WALTON.

The Springfield Republican says: "The republicans must give it up. Grover Cleveland is elected the next President of the United States and will be inaugurated on the 4th of March next. The candidate and campaign of falsehood fall together in mutual ruin. The grand old party—we use the words in no satiric sense—which has governed the country for twenty-four years, saving the Union, freeing the slave and retrieving financial disaster, goes down, not in honor and honorable defeat, but in disgrace and behind a corrupt, venal and shiftless leader. It fell when it nominated Blaine and before a vote had been cast. When it ran up his name to the mast head it insulted the honesty and decency of the country; it mistook the whoop of the Chicago mob for the honest convictions and the sober character of the people of the United States. By the same act it both necessitated and it defied revolution—and revolution has come."

The St. Louis Globe Democrat, which is not a democratic paper by any means, says of the candidate it worked so hard to elect: "He proved a deadhead in the enterprise of carrying the country." "For President in 1888—Some Man Who Hasn't Written Any Letters." "Mr. Blaine should have burned those letters himself, instead of asking another fellow to do it." "The trouble began by Blaine's designation of Conkling as a turkey gobbler twenty years ago. We presume the returns mean that Conkling is not a turkey gobbler." "We believe it was Martin Van Buren who said he would rather walk twenty miles than write a letter. If Mr. Blaine had taken more walks and written fewer letters he might have been elected." "In re 'Tell the Truth' vs. 'Burn this Letter,' verdict for plaintiff."

It seems that the good news that we were to have a solid democratic representation in Congress from this State, was not altogether true. Wadsworth, republican, is said to have defeated Powers in the 9th by 102 votes. The other ten are all dyed in the wool democrats, who submit always to the manners and customs of their party. W. P. Tansie has 2,500 majority in White's district; McCree has fully as much as this; Stone buries Oscar Turner clean out of sight and Gen. Wolford goes back with over a 1,000 majority.

There has never been any real doubt about the result of the election in New York since the next day after it occurred. The newspapers had arrangements in every county and by the time the polls were closed their correspondents were in possession of the figures which showed Cleveland an ample plurality. The republicans deserve and will receive the severest execrations of the business men all over the country for their efforts to create doubts and unsettle the commercial condition.

SEN. BUTLER has proved himself the meanest man in the United States. After taking part in the democratic national committee, he not only accepted the nomination of another so-called party but conspired with the democracy's arch enemy, Blaine, to defeat the will of the people. This was supposed all the time and he now admits that his effort was alone to elect Blaine. But the old coward got most ignominiously laid down upon.

THE official canvass of the vote in New York began Tuesday and the result announced in 44 counties up to Thursday showed less than a change of 10 from democratic figures. Thursday's papers said that there were rumors in New York city yesterday to the effect that the republicans had given up the fight. Practically this is true, though the party is represented by counsel at the City Hall.

WHEN the New York republican managers found that Cleveland had carried that State, they telegraphed to Mahone: "We need Virginia for our salvation, and perhaps West Virginia. Can't you help us?" Mahone at once telegraphed to his brethren in certain counties to hold back returns till further orders. Thus do the rascals conspire together to defeat the expressed will of the people.

GEN. LOGAN's saliva seems to have dried up since the election. He has not spit in a man's face for a month, at least the telegraph has not reported to that effect. Having got so badly left for Vice President and lost his show for a return to the Senate, it would seem that he ought to be mad enough to spit fire.

It is claimed in some quarters that the new Congress will hardly elect Carlisle speaker, but that Randall will once more be given the gavel. The New York Herald shows however that the Kentucky revenue reformer has the inside track and will more than probable retain his position.

PATTIE, the sweetest of singers, has at last obtained a divorce from her husband. She has been living with her tenor, Niccolini, for years as his wife and now, after the manner of Blaine, charges that she was secretly married to him long ago. Pattie is far from being as virtuous as she is pretentious.

DANIEL MANNING, the King Bee of New York democrats and Cleveland's most trusted lieutenant, having accomplished his ends, will turn his attention to matrimonial affairs and will next week lead to the altar a bride. He deserves the heat and sweetest in the Empire State.

GEN. GRANT not wishing to put himself on record as a supporter of the Plumed Knight, conveniently forgot to register and couldn't vote.

THE cock has been used by Democratic newspapers the morning after elections for forty years. It is essentially a democratic bird, having been first used when the democrats crowded over the defeat of Clay by Polk.

No Doubt About Cleveland Now.

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 13.—The Times has a dispatch saying that at 2 p. m. all but 12 counties of the State have reported the result of the official canvass. They show a net gain of 9 for Cleveland. This does not include New York and Kings counties. The total vote of Brooklyn, as officially announced to-day, gives Cleveland a plurality of 15,762, being a gain of 6 for Cleveland. The count may not be completed this week.

ELECTION NOTES.

—Gov. Gray's official majority in Indiana is 7,296.

—Frank Hurd will contest the election of his opponent.

—The official democratic majority in Florida is 4,144.

—The democrats made a gain of 10,000 votes in Wisconsin.

—The report that Mr. Cleveland is to be married soon is denied.

—St. John ran ahead of Butler in New York about 5,000 votes.

—New Hampshire gave Blaine 1,875 majority and 4,000 plurality.

—Returns from every county in Oregon give Blaine 2,100 majority.

—The official vote of Mississippi gives Cleveland 78,547, Blaine 42,774.

—It is not so had in California as first reported. She will send one democrat to Congress.

—In Illinois Blaine has 25,116 plurality; Kansas about 60,000 and some 35,000 in Minnesota.

—It is said that $10,000,000 will change hands in New York City alone upon the result of the election.

—Mr. Conkling says "Cleveland is elected beyond all doubt, and his friends need have no apprehension of the result."

—The democrats have elected but one Congressman West of the Rocky Mountains and that one is Henry, of the First California district.

—Blaine's plurality in Pennsylvania is 80,553, but Cleveland sees that and goes 25,000 more in Texas, his plurality there being over 105,000.

—The official vote in Casey county shows a majority of five for the national democratic ticket. For Congress, Wolford, democrat, received 775, and Jones, republican, 743.

—Hon. Roscoe Conkling has consented to act as counsel for the democratic national and State committees in any question that may arise in relation to the pending canvass. It is reported on republican authority that his pay is $10,000.

—Ex-Senator McDonald denounces as false the interview purporting to have been held with him Monday, in which he was made to say the democrats were too premature on claiming a victory, and intimating a weakness of backbone on his part.

—Blaine's net gain in 45 counties in New York over the unofficial count is exactly 8. If there were enough counties he might get there in the course of time, says the Louisville Commercial. There are but 60 counties, though, so he won't get there.

—Carter Harrison is defeated for Governor of Illinois by Gen. Oglesby, (both ex-Kentuckians) but he reduced the majority greatly. He is only defeated by 5,400, while Cleveland loses the State by 18,000. Harrison, who was a great champion of Cleveland's nomination, is likely to be one of the President's favorites.

—Mr. McPherson, Secretary of the republican Congressional committee, says, for the most authentic information he has been able to secure, the next House of representatives will consist of 182 democrats, 141 republicans, 1 Greenbacker (Barnum of Pennsylvania) and one Fusionist (Weaver of Iowa). Democratic majority over all thirty-nine.

—Benjamin F. Butler was born in 1818, and after a long and disreputable career, died politically on the 4th day of November, 1884. His present dilapidated condition reminds one of a remark made by an ancient dame when gazing upon her dead husband. "Old man," said she, "you look bad now, but I'll be darned if you haven't been a hoose in your day!"—(C. J.)

—The Courier Journal suggests the following list of cabinet officers: Secretary of State Allen G. Thurman, Ohio; Secretary of the Treasury William D. Washburn, New York; Secretary of War Geo. B. McClellan, New Jersey; Secretary of the Navy Samuel J. Randall, Pennsylvania; Secretary of the Interior Frank Jones, Louisiana; Postmaster General Eppa Hunton, Virginia; Attorney General Joseph E. McDonald, Indiana.

—H. T. Wilson's barn, containing 40,000 pounds of tobacco, was burned in Bourbon county Tuesday night by an incendiary. The farmers are alarmed, claiming that the negroes are incensed by the success of Cleveland, as they claim that they will have to go back into slavery.

—Just after the celebration and parade in honor of the election of Cleveland and Hendricks, at Millersburg, Monday night a fire was discovered in the cellar of Joe Will Miller. With no fire department, the whole of the best square of the town was destroyed. The fire is thought to be the work of an incendiary. Loss about $75,000.

DANVILLE, BOYLE COUNTY.

—Mr. Henry M. Cash and Maggie C. Tucker obtained license to marry Wednesday. The young lady is a daughter of Orville Tucker of this county.

—Archie Denny was on trial Wednesday for selling whisky to Mr. Price, a high-toned and morality-loving colored gentleman. Price swore he got the whisky and there was considerable testimony going to show that he is a liar of the first water, so the jury disagreed and there is to be another trial to day (Thursday.)

—At Masonheimer's Restaurant, opposite the Court House, Danville, Ky., meals are served at all hours. Game always on hand and in its season, Oysters, fresh fish, and similar delicacies served in all styles and on short notice. Look out for the sign "Woodbine Restaurant" and call when you are hungry. F. W. Masonheimer & Co., Danville, Ky.

—The exhibition of trained animals ect., by the Andrea Novelty company at the Opera House Wednesday night surpassed anything of the kind ever before seen in Danville. The feats performed by the birds seemed to indicate almost human intelligence, while the tricks in magic and juggling by Messrs. Andrea and De Camo are certainly first-class. The performances are to be resumed Friday and Saturday nights, none being given Thursday night on account of the celebration. A great many useful presents are given away each night.

Gath says it was Burchard, with his "Rum Romanism and Rebellion," Halstead says it was Arthur; Whitelaw Reid says it was the Prohibitionist; Carl Schurz says it was his $200 speeches. The fact is, after all, it was the democrats, aided and abetted by the Independents, who did it.—[Indiana Police Times.]

A New York business man says, "It is hard to tell as yet what will be the effect on business. There has been a general stagnation for some months past and it would seem as though any change must be for the better. I don't, however, look for much revival during the present year. It will take some time for things to quiet down."

"I Don't Feel Like Work."

It makes no difference what business you are engaged in, whether you are a preacher, a merchant, a mechanic, a lawyer or a common laborer, you can't do your work well while you are half sick. Thousands try to, but all in vain. How much better to keep your organs in good order by taking Parker's Tonic when you feel a little out of sorts. It would be money in your pocket. One hour of good, refreshing health is worth half a dozen hours full of languor and pain.

The Buell stock is tanned by the old-fashioned long time cold liquor process, thereby producing soft and pleasant wearing material. Any method that will tan stock in ten to thirty days in order to make it cheap will unavoidably destroy its life, and when the oil used in dressing evaporates the leather becomes hard and brittle. A single thought should convince you that notwithstanding the difference in price, you can better afford to buy BUELL'S BOOTS AND SHOES.
